A one-day event for today's retail trader

Saturday, 21st October 2023; Novotel London West

Today's trader faces some extremely tough choices – every day. The London Trader Show, sponsored by ActivTrades, is here to help traders navigate their way through an increasingly diverse and opaque industry. To help them plan a clear, achievable path to trading success, and profit, by setting realistic goals and finding out how, what and where to go to make them a reality.

Headline Sponsors, ActivTrades, said, "ActivTrades is honored to be a headline sponsor of the London Trader Show, an event dedicated to empowering traders in an ever-evolving industry. As traders face tough decisions daily, the show serves as a compass, guiding them towards trading success. With a wealth of trading opportunities, expert speakers, and interactive sessions, the London Trader Show equips traders with essential knowledge and resources. We are committed to supporting the UK's active traders in their journey towards financial growth and prosperity. Join us at the show to chart your course for a successful trading future."

Since launch in 2011, the London Trader Show has welcomed over 15,000 traders through the doors.

From learning which trading opportunities will best serve their needs, to making new contacts and discovering more about trading: options trading, commodities trading, currency trading and how day trading can complement an existing investment portfolio. The London Trader Show brings it all together in one place, for one day, for traders.

The London Trader Show is organised by Investor Conferences (UK) Ltd. Registered in Scotland No 386077. Registered Office 3/2 Guardianswood, Edinburgh EH12. Telephone 0131 618 2131 Email: Contact@icuk.media

The London Trader Show features trading workshops, a wide range of free seminars, live debates and interviews throughout the day, and a technical analysis session, chaired by Glen Goodman, with Eddie Tofpik, Yohay Elam, Alex Spiroglou and Ian Coleman. Other speakers include Paul Wallace, Paddy Osborn (tbc), Alpesh Patel and Ashraf Laidi. Delegates can browse the interactive exhibition featuring some of the top banks and brokers, education companies, data providers and trading software – it's a busy and exciting day for all concerned.

The London Trader Show is designed specifically to provide independent training and education to active traders in the UK, supporting individuals who seek to boost income through trading, secure an income stream in retirement, enhance returns through investing, and/or to make a full-time career in trading.
